Discretionary Learner Support

http://www.direct.gov.uk/en/EducationAndLearning/AdultLearning/FinancialHelpForAdultLearners/DG_10033131

If you are aged 19 or over, Discretionary Learner Support might be one source of help. To be eligible to apply you must be 19 or over and accepted onto and be studying a programme of learning funded by the Skills Funding Agency. The funds are prioritized for those facing financial hardship and can be used to help with costs such as those for childcare, accommodation, essential course-related equipment, materials, field trips and travel.

The Residential Support Scheme

http://www.direct.gov.uk/en/EducationAndLearning/14To19/MoneyToLearn/ExtraHelp/DG_066986

Funded by the Education Funding Agency, this bursary scheme may help those that qualify to pay for term-time accommodation. Students can claim up to £3,458 (£4,079 in the London area) towards living costs for a maximum of three years, with support varying in relation to gross household income. To qualify, students must be 16 or over, and an 'ordinary resident' in England. Further to this the award criteria states that your course must:

- be your first level 2 or level 3 qualification
- be a 'learner-responsive funded provision'
- be outside a 'reasonable daily travelling distance' from your home – and there cannot be similar courses available locally
- involve at least 16 hours of attendance a week, lasting at least 10 weeks in duration

Care to Learn

http://www.direct.gov.uk/en/EducationAndLearning/14To19/MoneyToLearn/Caretolearn/DG_066556

This scheme can help by paying for childcare costs while you learn. Eligible for those under 20, the Care to Learn funding could pay up to £160 per child per week (up to £175 for those living in London). To access such funding you must also be living and learning in England, caring for your own child or children, be either a British citizen or a national of another country within the European Economic Area (EEA). Apprentices receiving a wage cannot receive Care to Learn, however there are alternative schemes that can help with childcare costs, such as those through the Tax Credit system.

Professional and Career Development Loans

http://www.direct.gov.uk/en/EducationAndLearning/AdultLearning/FinancialHelpForAdultLearners/CareerDevelopmentLoans/DG_10033237

A Professional and Career Development Loan is a deferred repayment bank loan for which the Skills Funding Agency pays the interest while you're studying and for one month afterwards. This is currently offered by Barclays and the Co-operative Bank, and you can take out between £300 and £10,000 from participating banks. After your studies you will pay back your loan with a fixed interest rate from when you took out the loan so, unlike other available loans, these are 'secure'.
